

V3 evaluates camera layouts by robust observability: blind surface is unavailable, single-view surface is fragile, and redundant surface supports autonomous navigation.